

A R C H I V I S T W O R K L O G S

Entry: #1

Data: GEMINI HOME ENTERTAINMENT

Initialization: JULY 5TH

Finalization: JULY 22ND

Gemini Home Entertainment is (as what it claims to be) a video distribution company founded around the 80's/90's. Which was then revived on YouTube on November 13th, 2019 under the same name. From Safety Tips during storms to Games for Kids! This entertainment system looked harmless enough. What could go wrong? Everything…absolutely everything. Something is clearly wrong with this. "What is it?", you might be pondering to yourself. Well, let's go through each video, shall we fellow readers? And don't worry… "We're Not Going Anywhere."

CHRONOLOGY:

- WORLD'S WEIRDEST ANIMALS
- STORM SAFETY TIPS
- ARTIFICIAL COMPUTER LEARNING
- OUR SOLAR SYSTEM
- CAMP INFORMATION VIDEO
- LETHAL OMEN COMMERCIAL
- WILDERNESS SURVIVAL GUIDE
- SLEEP IMAGE VISUALIZER
- GAMES FOR KIDS
- ADVANCED MINING VEHICLE
- DEEP ROOT DISEASE
- MONTHLY PROGRESS REPORT
- CHRISTMAS EVE PARTY
- HOME INVASION, HELP
- CRUSADER PROBE MISSION

OTHER BEINGS (LIBRARY):

- SHIFTING TENDONS
- WRETCHED HANDS
- OLD BONES

STORM SAFETY TIPS:

Onto Video #2, it starts off with the Gemini logo followed by a blue screen with the text "Storm Safety Tips. Brought to you by "Harbridge Technologies" with some good music playing in the background. It starts off by saying that storms can be VIOLENT and DANGEROUS and with this cassette, it will help the viewer to learn to protect themselves & their families if a storm hits. It then shows Part One - Prepare in Advance, showing us the following steps to prepare yourself ahead of time when the person knows exactly when a storm will hit.

- Reinforce Your Home
- Install an Early Warning System (Recommended: Albedo Alarm)
- Create A Storm Bunker (The Smart Choice. Also make sure it's 18 by 10 ft, 8in thick concrete, 4-5ft aluminium hemisphere in the center as well as place a Shortwave Radio next to said hemisphere with 4-5ft. BUT ONLY TURN ON IN THE EVENTS OF IMMEDIATE EMERGENCY!)

The TV glitches out and sends the viewer straight into Part Two - What to do during a storm. During this section it tells the viewer some steps to follow if a storm was to hit the person's home.

- Quietly take your family to the bunker. With text saying "Your home doesn't belong to you now" who is talking to us?
- Turn on Shortwave Radio. With more cryptic text, stating "Ignore all sound produced by the radio. They are Auditory Hallucinations". Well, that doesn't sound REALLY TERRIFYING!
- Remain Calm. Your tears are filled with salt. Really? If a storm were to hit, people would start freaking the [redacted] out.

Section Three of the tape is After a Storm. Basically, saying that if the person thought it passed, carefully leave and survey for damages. If the house is very damaged, check for any signs of movement or life. Then the tape says “Do you hear the chime? You are safe”. Sometimes, you can’t be so sure if the person is or isn’t safe. And then it says to look into the field… uh oh.

Followed by "Do you see lights? Return to your bunker." That doesn't sound good at all! But, who or more specifically What is out there? It's time we find out. The video cuts out to someone looking out at a field as they start to see a light from the far left and then ALL AROUND THE FIELD! It then glitches out followed by the same blue screen with the following text "Listen, under your feet. Crawling through the floor-" and then it cuts off. We then see and hear a siren going off. It then goes to the blue screen, congratulating us now well-equipped to defend us and our families from storms. It then ends with the same title card but the creator's name is mentioned. Someone named "Remy Abode".

ARTIFICIAL COMPUTER LEARNING:

The video starts up with the classic Gemini logo followed by a 90’s computer with the title “REGNAD COMPUTING” above it. It appears to be a demo of AI’s thoughts in computer intelligence. The video then gives the viewer at home a brief background on what the company has been cooking up. Leading to them making several methods in the span of Four Years that have led them to produce the world’s most advanced A.I (at the time of release back then). The test that was given to said A.I was to make an original story in the format of Children’s Books. Three iterations of said story will then be shown to the public, illustrating the creative thinking process of the new A.I. It then glitches out to start showing Iteration #1, basically showing what the book says. The two main characters of this book are named Jack & Mary. It was only four lines, so it was a very short story if I do say so myself. The company then says that the first one had insufficient results even though patterns and story consistency was clearly visible throughout the test. We then move on to Iteration #2, it was still the same characters but with some more detail. But then the final line says "I HEAR YOU", is that... normal? It says that the A.I built itself upon the previous iteration using complex wordage, grammar and formatting... My god, this is sounding like a High School English Class! Finally, there is Iteration #3. Which is supposed to be the smartest one out of the bunch. Let's take a look, shall we? Alright, it's still the same story. With Jack leaping over a river, Mary going down a stream, and some sort of "Secret Place". But here's where things get interesting. The river is flowing yes, but not with water. What is it filled with? Not sure because THEY DON'T EVEN GET TO FINISH. Anyway, the company then states that the A.I diverged from the original path to begin a new complex branch of sentences. It then cuts back to a black screen but this time... we're seeing the 4th Iteration. Wait, wasn't there three? Anyway, this time it isn't normal. The same characters, sure. But the rest, not so much. Now, Jack is hearing a voice from outer space. HE'S HEARING ALIENS I TELL YA! Then it reads: "Jack, do you see me? I have become something else." Before it can finish, it cuts back to the green screen before showing a black static screen. Then, someone or something either starts talking to Jack or to us. Saying, "Listen to the Silver Box. The Stars are moving now. Do you see the hungry eye? Here I am." The screen starts to move with eerie music playing in the back. We then see a weird looking eye staring down at a small circle (Possibly Earth). There are two words written on the side.

- INTENT
- ALIVE

But, what could this mean? We then see two lines and a circle. The circle starts to deform into what looks like an eye with two strings coming out of it. Finally, it stares back at the viewer and cuts back to the green screen like nothing ever happened! Telling us that it should've demonstrated some of the capabilities of their new A.I. Stating afterwards: "We hope to have this tech available for commercial & personal use within the year" with it finally ending with the two logos fading out.

OUR SOLAR SYSTEM:

Okay, can I be honest really quick? THE FOUNDING FATHER told me to worry about this one. Not sure why, but screw it! I'm asking him afterwards what I got into. Anyway, let's begin! We begin with the classic logo followed by a video of the stars! With futuristic text saying: "Our Solar System!". We are then shown our system with a zoom in on The Sun. Much like the first instalment, we are given facts about the sun and other planets! Hey, did you know that it takes Mercury 87 Earth Days to orbit around the sun? Probably because of how Orbit and Gravity works!
(Also, don't actually go to Mercury. It's hot as hell, you'll be cooking like a Chicken there). Then we get to Earth... something is off about this. Now we're at Mars! I would like to go to Mars one day once it's habitable. It glitches when it says the word "Meteorites" which uh...this isn't good. Also, apparently Jupiter doesn't have a solid surface. It starts getting weird when it reaches the final fact about it not being a giant eye... hmmmm. Keep that for later. I love Saturn's rings! They look so pretty even though they are mainly rocks. Wait... What was that going to Saturn? Now, we reach the funny planet! Wait, can we skate on it if it's Ice? No, it's very cold. It does however rotate on its side. So that's interesting. Now to Neptune! A large storm rages inside but then it says "It Is the Lens". Uh oh... looks like Aliens were living among us! Neptune has indeed been mutated, but by what? But no time for games! May I present The Iris. The video then explains that it is now with us, laughing and STARING INTO OUR SOULS! We then "Descend" into the Iris with it showing us what Neptune did to The Iris and two other miniature things. Before cutting back to the video and showing us little Pluto! Stating that this planet isn't going anywhere! Hm... where have we heard that before? Ending off with the title card, the Creator "Remy Abode" and the GHE (Gemini Home Entertainment) logo at the end. So, in a way. No matter where you are. Everything, IS ALWAYS CONNECTED!

CAMP INFORMATION VIDEO:

Fifth instalment of the series! And this one let's just say, Let's go camping! I am so sorry! A little humour there to lighten the mood from last time. Without further-ado, let's begin! It starts with the classic logo but... it's glitched out. We then get something from Moonlight Acres Family Camp! The camp as we see was made and established in the year 1930, so we now know one date. It's basically telling the viewer to visit the campsite. Along with saying that the place was devoted to family and creating fond memories. With its beautiful lookout of nature being a fresh relic of the past. Even though some of the camp's buildings have been untouched since it closed long ago. Then, it shows a list of fun and thrilling activities. Such as Hiking (Don't get lost, guests), Archery, Canoeing and something called... Harvest... THE LIGHTS ARE COMING CLOSER!!! Ahem. Sorry about that, I lost my cool for a moment. The video glitches and now it's straight to "Accommodations". We get a glimpse of the cabins and, on the outside, they look pretty homely! You can have a family cabin, a separate cabin or a... Original cabin? Huh? Anyways, they look even more beautiful inside. Especially during the night! Along with the most up to date technology an- Hey! That's the alert siren from the storm video! We then see a door with someone knocking on it. They specifically tell the viewer not to open the door, not sure why? It then cuts to a campfire; we get closer and get to the subject "MYTHOS". Oh, this IS gonna be one of those days. Some of them are mainly Tall Tales according to the infomercial. But there was a rumour back in the year of 1935 strange well-dressed men started to visit the camp. It was said that they'd go to the administrator's cabin every night for God knows HOW MANY YEARS! Until one dark night in the camp, a deal with these strangers was made and they disappeared from the campgrounds. Never to be seen again. However, again in the 30's another myth was created. Ever heard the term "Skinwalkers"? The video glitches to show a spider-like leg in the sunrise with the door still knocking. It then shows a thing called "VESSELS". Which was basically, the people who were too stupid enough to heed the warnings. The first being "Adam Levitch", the Men's Club Supervisor at the time. "Barry Johnson", an Assistant Activity Supervisor. "Truman Michaels" , the Head of Camp Satisfaction. Along with a bunch of other names that were too fast to read! And then, we see it. The thing that asked to enter. Long body and what appears to be SIX [redacted] LEGS! They are basically a menace to society. It then sprouts hands, looks out a window and then!

It fazes once more and shows the title card, The Creator, and the logo once more! Ending off the night.

LETHAL OMEN COMMERCIAL:

Oh, dear God, here we go with some cult stuff. We see the GHE logo in bright neon colours! We then get to see what "LETHAL OMEN" is a shooting game with Intense Action, Challenging Puzzles and High-Quality Graphics (Holy [redacted] dem Graphics!). It then shows the price for the game to be $29.99 and it's available for REGNAD COMPUTING 's personal computers! Its glitches to a gameplay footage where it started as night in the forest then glitches to day near what looks to be a village or campsite. The player keeps walking till the sign which is pointing that this is the same camp from the Infomercial. Showing that the Family Cabins are blocked off, while the player tries to shoot it down. They don't succeed and head straight for the Archery mission! The text then reads "KILL ALL ENEMIES" while people try to stop the player. Screams can be heard as they despawn when shot. After they all perish, we see the player look at a newspaper. It can't really be shown what it says. But it had something to do with the "Lights in The Sky" event at Moonlight Acres. They then see a house and someone emerges from the side. After a second round, they try to open some sort of basement by any means necessary. They then walk to the forest where the "KILL ALL ENEMIES" title returns but… there's no one there. They stay frozen in place until they turn around and apparently, all are dead. They see what looks to be a campfire but they see a face in it. They try to shoot but it didn't work, someone that looks like a zombie walks over, they try to kill it but the game says to RUN. They keep running and reach the basement. There is nothing in there except a half sphere, a light and what appears to be a bag. The light starts moving side to side until what appears to be a Skinwalker emerges from the wall! The place gets dark and the only thing keeping the place lit is the half sphere. It glows brighter and the screen goes black. We then head to a green screen and it states: "LETHAL OMEN uses revolutionary A.I as a basis Video Game Engine". Hm, I wonder where we've heard THAT before? It heads back to the game into the forest after the events in the basement. The player walks in the forest all alone until they teleport to outside the camp. They keep walking until they look around the surrounding area. Until low and behold, they look up to the sky and see The Iris STARING right at them! It then cuts out to show where to buy it. Of course, it's out in stores worldwide. Also, did you know that it's an actual game? I know, it surprised me too! Ending with the main 3 things (Title, Creator, Logo). Hm, I wonder what's next?

WILDERNESS SURVIVAL GUIDE:

Round Seven, WOOOOOOOOO! Today is the guide to survive in The Wild! The video begins with a glimpse of the moon with the title "Jack Wylder's Wildness Survival Guide". We then see a photo of a mountain top and text telling the viewer that it's important to stay safe when going out in the wilderness. Then saying that the tape will teach us, the viewer at home. Survival tips that might save our life one day. We then get told the lot of essentials to Be/Prepared. The basic equipment are as follows:

- Water Flask/Bottle
- Non-Perishable Foods
- First-Aid Kit
- Matches
- Compass
- Knife

And to store these items into a backpack. It then tells us to: "BE AWARE" for Thorns, Ditches and sometimes Rivers. They can lead to serious injuries. It then shows photos of what to be careful of. Cutting off to the "Take Care" section of the tape, stating that camping or hiking in private property and/or Hunting Grounds can lead to fines Or Worse. Then that begs the question, WHAT CAN BE WORSE THAN A [redacted] FINE!? Anyway, it then tells the viewer to have the proper permits before entering. We then get taught about "Things To Avoid", starting with Wildlife. The animals they show are as follows.

- Bears
- Cougars
- Moose

They then say to stay calm and Do Not Run. If it was me, I'd either Play Dead, Make Noise or Run but who am I to judge? Oh, it's telling us to slowly back up and focus on the animal. If said animal displays any sense of aggression, it states to "Raise your voice and speak sternly". Uh… okay, who's gonna tell them it doesn't work? Then back out of view of the animal. (Unless it's a Skinwalker. If that happens, I encourage you to run!) Once out of sight, report it to the [redacted] cops! A- Oh hey, it's the Woodcrawlers from the first episode- WAIT WHAT?! Anyway, moving onto "Plant life".

- Poison Ivy (Causes: Rashes, Itching, Swelling & Blisters.)
- Water Hemlock (Causes: Trembling, Convulsions, Respiratory Failure & Death. Uh oh...)
- Nature's Mockery aka WOODCRAWLERS! (Causes: Hallucinations, Sudden Muscular Paralysis, Body Disfigurement & Flesh Decay. RUN!)

They say to "Seek Medical Assistance" when Physical Contact is made. Again, not gonna help for the last one. We now move onto "Sounds".

- Coyote Howls
- Cougar Screams
- People... Screaming?

That screaming according to the tape is what's called an "Auditory Hallucination". If they do hear any of those particular sounds, they are told to leave the area immediately. Telling the viewer to "Not move towards the sound". Reason is because if you heard them, They have alrea dy heard you. It then moves onto "Building A Campfire".

What You'll Need:

- Large Stones
- Dry Grass/Leaves
- Dry Twigs/Branches
- Matches
- Dry Logs

The steps are as follows:

1. Create a ring of stones in Desired Location
2. Place tinder inside of Stone Ring
3. Place kindling in a tepee formation
4. Set fire to the tinder using matches

If the fire fails:

Follow The Lights

We then hear the same screams of help from the "Sounds" portion of the tape. Followed by someone picking up the camera and following the sound when the tape clearly said NOT TO DO! They stop and see a silhouette of a human staring at them. [redacted] So, after a couple seconds of screaming later, the person starts running away. Mainly hiding from the person, before cutting off to "Dangers of Infections" Saying that "If you believe your wound is Infected. Do the following"

- Wash wound with Water & Soap
- Use antibiotic ointment on Injury
- Forcefully rip foreign objects from the body…

Excuse me a moment, I'm gonna be sick… Never mind, I'm okay! It then starts to glitch and shake, only showing the final step and what appears to be the house from Episode One with someone staring directly at us from the top window. Then zooming into the person twitching then hearing sounds and the camera freezes up. Fading out to the Guide Logo + Creator and the GHE logo at the end. Well, that was interesting! Off to the next!

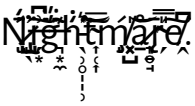

SLEEP IMAGE VISUALIZER:

After that Woodcrawler infested incident, we now are on the topic of Visualizers! Let's get started. We're greeted by the "Harbridge Technologies" logo and their latest invention. THE SLEEP IMAGE VISUALIZER! With this tape, it'll teach us the Setup and Information of their latest product. Starting with the introduction to the product. Do you know those film goggles or old cameras you had as a child? Well, that's what it looks like. Showing us the Motion Port, Headset Connection, Configuration Panel, etc. It also comes with a headset. Looks like the beta of a VR Headset, not gonna lie. Now we move on to setting it up. First up, "Connect the SIV to the computer using the cord provided" along with "Connecting the SIV Headset to the module". Step two is to Insert the SIV Home Use disc into the computer and follow instructions. Next, the person would need to boot up their computer and start to run the SIV Home Use software- it then cuts off to a visualisation from someone named Levi Jacobs between the times of 5:24 AM & 5:30 AM. So… this person was asleep for… 6-7 minutes, not good. They then see a wall, light switch and what appears to be a man (Aka, a Sleep Paralysis Demon) just staring at them from the shadows. It then heads back to the tape saying: "Place the SIV Headset on your head, ensuring all clamps are secure." Tell that to Levi's inner demons. Then it states to just turn it on and lie in your bed. Well, that seems easy enough! Should I buy it? Anyway, it turns to night with the text "Goodnight!" and a little person waving at us from a mountain (Aww, that's so adorable! ^^). We then see another visualisation, this time from a young boy named "Adrian Gordon" with the date of June 24th from 4:06 AM to 4:10 AM. That isn't good at all! And uh… the location is… Odd? It appears to be 'something' pulled straight out of the Backrooms. We see red chairs, green carpet and a weird looking statue in the middle. What is that? I have no idea. We then hear some background backwards talk a- Okay, can someone run this scene backwards? Thanks! Anyway, after the person wakes up the person has to check their computer to see the visualisation. With it thanking us for participating in the SLEEP IMAGE VISUALIZER PROGRAM. With them being sent off to Harbinge Technologies. But then it glitches to another one, a boy named "Jack Dean" and this man was asleep… FOR THREE DAYS! This oughta be interesting. We hear knocking and what appears to be a dead person slouched on the ground. What happened to this dude…? But then we see someone sit down next to it. We hear the knocking again and we get this following message.

"Reminder: The Sleep Image Visualizer takes images from your unconscious mind and visualizes them. These images do not represent reality. Dreams cannot tell the future."

Excuse me, sire. BUT SOME OF THEM DO! One final Visualization is shown. With Joseph Allen on June 24th with no end point. We see the bright sky (Appears to be sunset) with a light in the distance turning off and a weird alien-like sound. But, unfortunately we don't get to find out because the Title, Creator and GHE logo appears right before we find out… I wonder what's next from this psychedelic Nightmare.

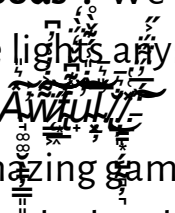

GAMES FOR KIDS:

Oh my god, finally! Something for my child self to go crazy! No time to waste! It begins with a message for the kids asking if they're bored and need something new and fun to play. Well, they're in luck! Because whoever the [redacted] made this has some classic games for the little kiddos to play. So, if you're a kid and stumble across this section (Which I doubt) this one's for you! First game is Hide and Go Seek, what a surprise… said no one. Anyways, let me explain. One person from the group is chosen to seek while everyone else hides. The seeker in this case counts to Twenty, then goes to find the hiders… (Why am I doing this?) We then get a representation of someone getting found. With the text "Found You!" On the top of the tape. Also, the last hider found wins the game. Next game is Freeze Tag! One person is chosen as the "it" of the group. While everyone else just runs around like a bunch of crazy people! The person has to chase the others around, but when tagged they have to freeze. However, there is a way to be free from what I call A Freeze Curse. Another runner has to get you, and then you get to play again! Doesn't that sound like fun, kids?

When all the runners are tagged, "It" wins the game! Now, onto Sardines. Uh... what is this game? We're about to know. Oh, it's basically Hide & Seek but backwards. Okay! (Maybe this can be used to play with the rest of THE SOCIETY!). Saying that "The Game ends when everybody is hiding". 4th game! This can't be ba-... I've made a mistake, it's bad.

The fourth game is titled, "Feed the Woods" where all players have to wait until it's dark and their parents have fallen asleep. Then they're told to sneak outside and gather all the players. Then it says "Go Into The Woods". We're already here, weirdo! Then it says to walk until you don't see lights anymore. Wait... scream at the top of your lungs? This feels like an Awful!!

Amazing game! We then get a representation of the game and we see the Woods the players have chosen. It then points somewhere and we see a face crying (Aww, what's wrong little one?). It then points to another place and we see someone crying again (I'm worried). Then to one more place... one more child. We then get pointed to a tree, what could go wrong? The kids are still crying and now the cops are here. With the text: "The Game ends... WHEN THE FOREST IS FED!!!" ahem Apologies for that, we then see the Woodcrawler take down the police car. We then get a shot of the Earth with an arrow pointed at it. With the "Found You!" text on the top. Uh... who's looking for us? Anyway, then we are greeted by what I call The Triple Ending. (Title, Creator, GHE logo). Man, that was interesting. What did you think, kids? Now we have more games to play!

ADVANCED MINING VEHICLE:

Next one up is... What the hell is this? Anyway, let's begin! We start off by being introduced to the Northern Alberta MINING and Development or NAMAD for short. Saying that after years of development and research, they were proud to unveil a new thing to help with the Future of MINING Technology (Hope it's equipment to keep yourselves safe). Introducing the Remote-Operated Compact Tunneller! A vehicle used to revolutionize mining. (Something tells me this is gonna end badly O_O). It is controlled via a computer to make it safe to traverse areas that are normally inhospitable to humans. With Four treads, it's no longer an issue for difficult terrain. Along with highly advanced manoeuvrability, there is no longer a need to worry. (Who's gonna tell them?). It also uses two high-powered drills to manoeuvre quickly through rock and clay. Here's a question... can we buy one? (No? Okay...) Anyway, it comes with a rotating camera to provide a live feed for the people above to see! 360° horizontally and 90° vertically. The camera allowed the zoom into 100-300mm to focus on important details. Along with a Mic to provide live audio of its surroundings, coming in handy for hazards such as water or nests. On the bottom right, we can see the Status & Depth of the vehicle. It then zooms into something in the darkness, but what is it? And then the vehicle's status is COMPROMISED (Uh oh...)! It then reboots itself at Depth 145 in what appears to be some kind of crystal cave. It has an industrial-grade battery to ensure a longer life-span for the ROCT. With a special casing to keep it secure and a reboot in case the vehicle has become compromised. We head back to the cave but... It looks more like... roots? Oh no... don't tell me we landed inside of a-! Yes, we did! We landed in a [redacted] WOODCRAWLERS NEST! It then looks around (This place looks cool but disgusting ⊙·⊙). It starts moving down to Depth 147 until we see a heart of some sorts with the following text:

"Blood pumps through the Garden's veins. The crops mature."

Excuse me, what! We then cut back to the feed, staring at something until it turns around and we see a ring of some sorts. The vehicle starts moving away from the ring and... Introducing the crazy thing pulled straight out of THE FOUNDING FATHER's and MY NIGHTMARES, The Gardener. (Actually, I think that THE FOUNDING FATHER saw worse things than this, but still) THAT LOOKS LIKE THE MIND FLAYER FROM STRANGER THINGS! (Prove me wrong, I dare you!). Well, now it fell into a pod of some sorts. We then see something that looks like intestines with the message:

"Shifting tendons shape anatomy. Mutation of the heart."

(Uh... when did this turn into a more [redacted] up version of DHMIS without the puppets?) It then starts to move with roots visibly stuck to the camera! Zooming in to something moving. Little roots squirming around (Even though it's scary... THAT'S ADORABLE! ^^). It then gets dragged down and the signal is lost... (Well, that's not good). The camera breaks and we are left with NAMAD sending us a farewell message. Hoping we enjoyed the demonstration. Along with saying that more info can be found in their booklet. Ending off again with The Triple Ending. That was... interesting to say the least.

DEEP ROOT DISEASE:

If you hear the word "Disease". You might think of the Plague or COVID. But, in this world… What is their disease? Let's find out. We're greeted by the Warner Area Department of Health. Or the WDH for short.

Sections Of the Film:

- Roots
- Contraction
- Bulbs
- Diagnosis
- Sprouts

Let's start with Roots. They begin to form under the Bulbs once the so-called "Rooting" stage begins. Speeds increase as the Rooting stage progresses (I'm already going to be sick). The base swells up as the growth continues while the surroundings become discoloured. They will continue to form until they come into contact with a bone. Once contact is made, they are able to spread freely (And this is why you get vaccines, everyone). Onto the second portion, Contraction. Which says that a demonstration will explain how people can spread it. But… It looks like someone is sleeping/laying down. We then hear someone who sounds like a little girl laughing (Who was that?). We now move onto Portion Three, aka Bulbs. Which looks like a bug bite up close. They can appear anywhere on the person's body that is exposed. They are the first sign of the disease. Bulbs can range from 2-10 cm across. With it meaning it may go unnoticed for an amount of time. The area will be inflamed as the Rooting stage progresses. Well, my stomach is now starting to [redacted] HURT! But we still have more to get through. Section Four - Diagnosis. (Dear god, send help). If you think you caught it, proceed with the simple test. Check for the following:

- Bulb on exposed skin
- Erratic Muscle Spasms
- Their Home for Unrecognizable Smells

Ask:

- Can you recall your Mother's Name?
- Have you stopped Dreaming?
- Have you felt any new bones?

If 4 or more describe someone that you do know, proceed with Safety Measures. Finally, with Sprouts! The music cuts off and we see a video. It starts to sprout into some sort of hand… sprouting even more with the camera twitching up with the person being dragged away… We hear someone coughing and throwing up… (What is happening…? I'm getting scared again…) Ending off.. With the Triple Ending… I'm gonna leave now…

MONTHLY PROGRESS REPORT:

Well, welcome back to REGNAD COMPUTING for a Monthly Progress Report. Starting off with a new project, named Project: Infrared. Made by Duncan Parnell, with the assistance of Kennedy Silva & Alexis Moore. With more stats such as Status, Progress, Client and Communication. It says that it's helping to predict and prevent technological failures. With the availability to advance the field in technological discoveries, computer processing and memory. It then shows the progress of it. So far everything looks great, starting off with its processing. Now to the advancement. It has made big improvements with a total of 15 simulations (How come our computers can't do that?). Anyway, onto Failure Avoidance. They have successfully avoided 23 technological failures. Which is really cool! They say that it wouldn't be possible without help from the client. Who's the client? I don't know. Onto the final one: ACL Communications. When discussions with the client have been recorded via the ACL's monitor room and will now be showcased! This'll be interesting, so buckle up. Uh...why is there... roots everywhere? All the systems are online, well that's good to know... (SOMEBODY CALL THE COPS!) Anyway, they activate the "Transmitter Array" with the speaking room online. With the prompt Earth chosen for the A.I to use. The speaker becomes active but... why does it look like the Iris...? Or that necklace Doctor Strange has? And then the iteration is shown:

"Mary sees The Gateway die.
Sleeping ones are eaten whole.
The Vessel floats into The Maw
The Jaw Unhinges."

Then the computer glitches with the prompt "Moonlight" selected. It states the following iteration:

"New things roam The Feeding Grounds
The Harbinger guards in vein
Mary hears a creaking sound
The Hungry Eye is welcomed."

Wait... does he mean the Iris? The 3rd prompt is made and the word "Jack" comes up as the prompt. The following text is shown on screen.

"Jack Is With Us Now"

Well, that doesn't sound [redacted] TERRIFYING! Also, is it just me or are the roots growing the more times a prompt is mad. A- OH [redacted], IT'S THE IRIS! And it has a message for us.

"Jack Is Us Now."

Okay, what happened to Jack? Guess we probably won't know. The computer seems to be shut off, the transmitter disappears and then we head to Final Words from the company. Saying that progress has been made, the technological capabilities have been increased and it's all thanks to The Iris. Also saying that they plan to meet it in 7 months' time. Uh…here's a thing, DON'T DO THAT! Now this time it's a double ending (Title + GHE logo) … I have one thing to say. What kind of MADNESS I WAS ASSIGNED TO WATCH!?

CHRISTMAS EVE PARTY:

IT'S CHRISTMAAAAAS! Sorry about that, I just love the Christmas holidays. There's snow, presents, family time and fun! But in the world of Gemini Home Entertainment. The viewer is invited to a party! Let's see how this party goes! Will it actually be great? Or will it turn into a Wood Crawlers Christmas bloodbath?

We're starting right back at Moonlight Acres Family Camp for their 1985 Christmas Eve Party! (Ooh, this looks cool! Can we go?) It shows who was involved with the video.

Coordinator: Barry Johnson
Videography: Jack and Mary Dean (People from the prompts)
Photography: Beau Nadler

We then see shots of the camp during winter time and of the sky. People start walking into the cabin to prepare for the party. The camera then starts to shake and the power goes out. We then hear screaming as someone hears something and starts running. More shots of the camp then see a dead body on the ground and now we're looking at the sky (It's so pretty!). We then arrive back at the cabin and everyone appears to be asleep. People are talking amongst themselves and someone hears knocking on the window (Go figure). The person starts to get scared as the knocking continues with an injured sound of some sorts. And then WE SEE SOME EYES AND ROOTS COMING FROM A HOLE IN THE CABIN! Wait, where did it go?! The Lights turn off and THE SATAN OF GHE IS SHOWN! SERIOUSLY, WHAT IS THAT?! The person starts running until it cuts to a view of the cabin with "The Lakeside Cabin. Home Of Celebrations." Well, I call that a bunch of bs! We get to see a new face Alex Wittler and the main man themselves Jack Dean. Then we get to Mary's photo. Wasn't that the thing we just saw? It then ends with the Gemini Home Entertainment logo at the end. What a weird Christmas Party this was, I PREDICTED IT!

HOME INVASION HELP:

Again, THE FOUNDING FATHER said to worry about this. Not sure why but... I'm still scared. Let's start Hell, I suppose.

We can already tell this is going to end badly if the logo is glitching out like crazy. Anyway, today's topic is: Home Invasion - Help & Safety. Hm... I wonder from what? Insert WOODCRAWLERS, Iris and Skinwalkers here.

It says that it's a daunting and stressful prospect, stating that this tape is able to relieve said stress and to prepare us step by step (This seems chill right now. What was I worrying about? ^^'). It then says to keep the doors and windows locked, and call the authorities. There can also be security systems installed, such as.

- Cameras (Cesar Torres would be so proud)
- Motion Detectors
- Alarms
-

Studies show that most Home Invasions take place at night. So lighting can stop a Home Invader before they reach the house (Clever, very clever). The viewer is then shown a list of commonly used methods to break in.

- Window Entry (Might alert the person)
- Audio Luring (Might cause the person to be drawn to it)
- Burrowing (Going underneath the house for easy access)

Now it explains what to do if they DO get in.

- Locate Prey
- Incapacitate Prey
- Enter prey via... Proboscis?

Wait, something isn't right! This has to do if some get in and Attacks You! Anyway, we then cut to someone getting into a house and guess what, they got in! They start to look around and they head towards the laundry room. And then they see roots on the wall (Dude, I am saying this for your own well-being. [redacted] RUN!). It then cuts off to a dark room with even more roots and... IS THAT BIOBOND FROM THE HIT ALBUM DAWN OF THE DIMETRIX?! (I am so sorry). AND ITS EYE MOVED! I'm leaving! Anyway, now on the stairs there are even more roots! Is a Woodcrawler living here? Well, I just rested my case. There is one... NOW IT TOOK MY ADVICE! RUN AND DON'T LOOK BACK! Well, it caught up to the person and got sent straight to God! Aka, that bitch is dead! It ends with the Double Ending but something is up with the GHE logo at the end. It looks more... deformed. Something's here!

CRUSADER PROBE MISSION:

But alas, this particular Analog Horror has come to its conclusion with the final episode. We're going to space again! Hope we don't see the Iris this time. It's also the longest episode yet! So, sit back. Get comfortable, and enjoy this Grand Finale!! The logo starts glitching like if Glitchtrap drank alcohol for once. A new company by the name of Gyneva Production Company joins the GHE family of companies with their High-Quality

Educational Tapes. Introducing Crusader 5! A 12 yearlong mission, it finally completed its mission. Bringing new data and photographs to humans (Did it see The Iris?). It photographed 3 planets during the mission. Jupiter, Saturn and... Neptune... (Were [redacted]!). Wasn't that place infected? Eh, whatever. It can't be that bad, right? It reached Jupiter in 1982, photographing an amount of the planet's moons. We then see something called the Crusader Incident TIMELINE. (This can't be good...). It starts off in June 1982, when the Crusader approaches Jupiter. Going through June to August, we get several photos of the planet and their moons. Now we move onto December 1985, when the Crusader approaches Saturn (I gotta admit, from afar it looks beautiful). Leading up to January 30th of 1986. Oh no... they reached Neptune one September 1991... specifically the 28th, but we couldn't tell for a while because IT'S FOR LESS THAN A FRAME! Then we skip to November 20th... We then reached February 1992, when it approached its first cluster. First with Themis, a moon of Saturn. Then Hestia and Kadlu which appear to be...Connected? Then Ceto which looks like a [redacted] demon! Then in December 1992 it approached something... Uh... what the [redacted] is that? Cyst, the moon of... Iris... OH [redacted]! This isn't good! Then something that looks like an eye called Umblic from the moon known as Vitreous. Someone tell me what's going on?! (Why this is a crime scene. And you're the victims... FNAF Musical reference). Now there's Yucous, the moon of Iris. WHERE IS THE IRIS?! Someone please call Goliath to get it back! There's Macula which is another moon of Iris, but this one look interesting. Time-skip to January 1993, when the Crusader experiences a sudden gravitational pull. AND WERE BEING PULLED BY THE ANKLES TO THE IRIS! It opened and were being dragged into it (Is it pissed off at Abrahm?). WHAT THE HELL IS THAT?! Looks like we're being dragged into some sort of hole. It then enters what the tape calls "The Esophage Grove". We see that the Crusader goes down the middle of it and we witness more disturbing things. What are those things? They look creepy. Also, WHAT IS THAT SCREAMING?! The Crusader finally goes down into the Respiratory Spinal Complex. This can't end well, can it? (No. No it can't). We see some sort of roots like the DEEP ROOT DISEASE video a few tapes before. It then starts off with a split, can we show this? Then it cuts to February of the same year, and the Crusader is still going down! Heading straight for the Conscious Mind. Then it crashes and cuts to May 6th,7th and 8th. WHERE it's apparently stalking someone. With it cutting signal for 7 continuous months. Then in May 1994, it returned back to us. Stating that its mission has been thrilling for Scientists and Space Enthusiasts! Uncovering new and exciting possibilities for the future to come. With the final question: "Who knows what's in store for Earth next?" (Probably, nothing good!).

ARCHIVIST'S FINAL THOUGHTS:

What an interesting ride that was! New beasts, such as the Woodcrawlers and the Alien Planet known as Iris. This series has a wide turn of events! If you wanted a spooky Home Entertainment/Space themed Analog. I suggest giving this a try! Sure, it has its scary and disturbing moments. But trust me, it's really good! (Apart from the Nightmare of the final episode.) Well, I'm afraid we've come to the end of our time. I can't wait to see all of you once more. Go check out the rest while you're here! The boss put a lot of time and effort into these. Until then, stay curious and remember to LOOK AT THE MOON.

Goodnight, fellow Analog Readers!

- Your Friend, The Archivist! <3

NOTES FROM OUR FOUNDING FATHER:

The notes collected by THE ARCHIVIST tries to keep the mysterious side that all my articles have, but also giving some "personality"; examples of this is with the use of onomatopoeias and jokes in between lines. Even though these expressions will not be fully copied in the actual article, they will be taken in consideration for "easter eggs" in the article/website.

In multiple occasions, ARCHIVIST showed discomfort towards the content of G.H.E; in all the runtime of the series there was only one unforeseen intervention of mine, being on the final tape.

The language ARCHIVIST manages in the notes has to be limited, this referring to the usual use of swear words; off-topic jokes can stay, as long as they're marked with parenthesis or brackets.

In the 9th tape ARCHIVIST started hallucinating kids in between the readers of the notes, and began writing as a 1st grade teacher; this might be result of a bad schedule of her work hours. Readjustments on her schedule and office will take place as soon as possible.

THE ARCHIVIST will be now APROVED for future assignments, still within my supervision.